Qualifikationsziele	Mergers and acquisitions have recently become the most dramatic expression of corporate strategy. This course combines analytic and process views to gauge the complexity of such strategic moves, gives the students an overview of the critical aspects that have an impact on M&As, encourages them to learn from past experience and provides them with a platform for finding solutions for crisis management in this field. Case studies involving mergers and acquisitions in the automobile, brewery, pharmaceuticals, telecommunication and grocery retail sectors in Europe and other parts of the world shall be discussed. An in-depth understanding of the factors necessary for success in international transactions especially in the preparation, implementation and integration phase shall be addressed.
Lehrinhalte	Topics to be discussed include: Classification of mergers, Motives behind mergers and acquisitions, Pre-merger preparation, The implementation phase, Post-merger integration and management, Due diligence, Defence mechanisms, Corporate valuation, Merger control, Lessons learned
